

Letter From The Publisher

Welcome to the 2nd Issue of our third year of The Autism Perspective - TAP magazine...

The mission of the organization has remained true to our purpose of presenting options and perspectives about autism without taking sides.

We are very proud to announce the opening of our new TAP Boutique On-line Store. For more details see back cover. The store will carry all types of merchandise to support autism awareness! This will also be a unique way to bring about awareness and let other people know that TAP magazine is a viable resource. We encourage each of you to log on and browse the new TAP Boutique! www.tapboutique.com

As always, we will continue to bring informative, heartfelt and meaningful articles to the readership of TAP. Inside this issue, we feature articles about new ways of understanding different approaches for unique types of treatment.
